Billy Goat Bridge
Fairy Tale Land
Wondrous Universe

Dear Fairy Tale Chief,

I am writing to complain about the unfair way we trolls are described by writers of fairy tales. I would like it if you, as Chief of the Board of Fairy Tales (BFT), could do something about this.

For too many years now, I have heard lots of fairy tales that say we trolls are ugly, greedy and smelly, and that we frighten people. Look at the Three Billy Goats Gruff. It is an upsetting and untrue tale. Many of my troll friends and I like goats and we always let them walk over our bridges without eating them.

It is also upsetting that we always seem to die at the end of the tale. Why is there never a happy ending for us?

I would appreciate it if you could speak to your fairy tale writers and tell them to make us heroes instead of villains. Trolls are very friendly creatures. We may not be as pretty as fairies, I grant you, but as I'm sure you will agree, it is what's on the inside that counts.

I look forward to hearing your thoughts on this matter.

Yours faithfully,

Takrum the (friendly) troll
