

Masks!

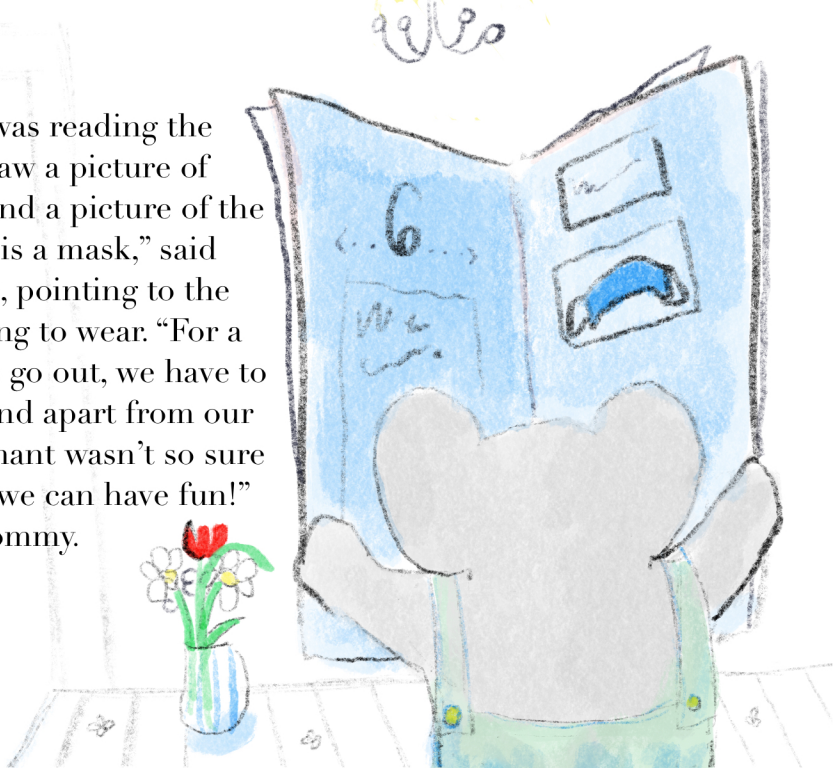

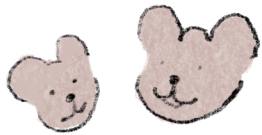

Written and illustrated by
Deana Sobel Lederman

Little Elephant was reading the newspaper. He saw a picture of something to wear and a picture of the number 6. “That is a mask,” said Mommy Elephant, pointing to the picture of something to wear. “For a little while, when we go out, we have to wear masks and stand apart from our friends.” Little Elephant wasn’t so sure about this. “Maybe we can have fun!” said Mommy.

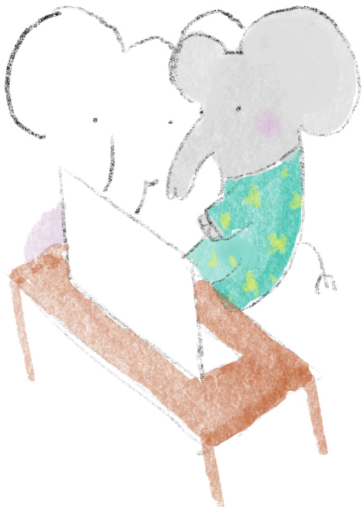

Little Zebra, Little Dog, and Bear talked to their parents about the masks, too.

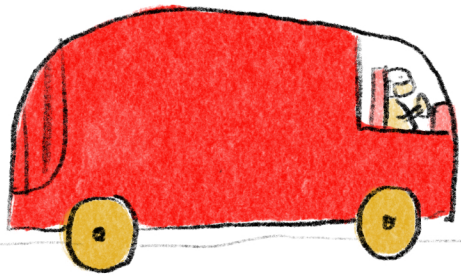

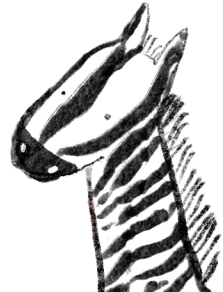

Little Elephant looked at masks online with Mommy Elephant.

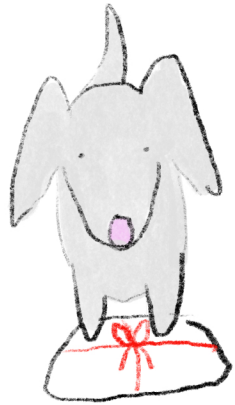

Daddy Zebra ordered a mask for Little Zebra. It arrived in a big red truck!

Nana Bella sent Little Dog a beautiful parcel. What was inside?

Auntie Rose sent Bear a package in the mail. Inside was a mask!

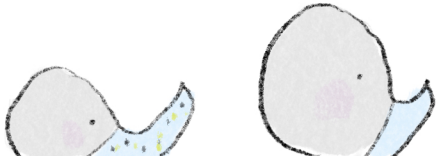

Little Elephant, Little Zebra,
Little Dog, and Bear all walked to the ice cream store
wearing their masks.

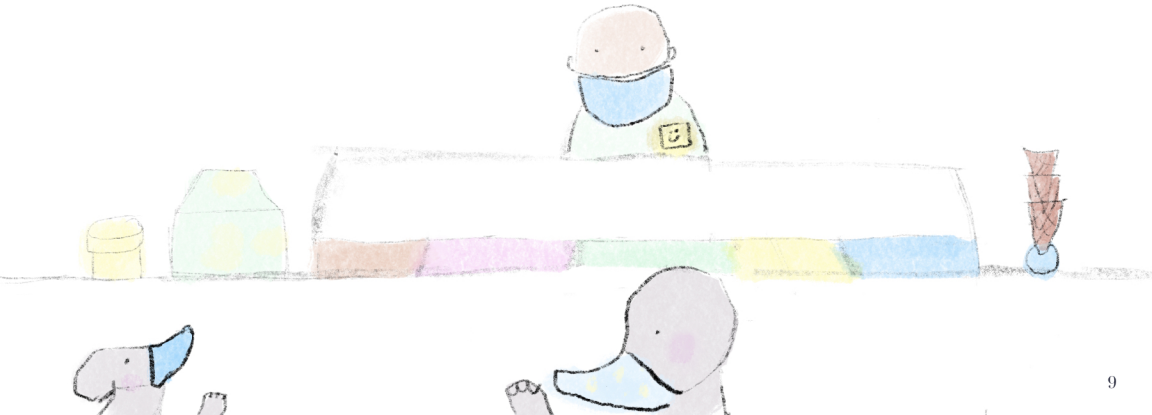

Outside the store, people were waiting in line. They went in one at a time. Some wore funny hats as a reminder to stand far apart.

Little Elephant went into the store with his mommy to buy his ice cream. Then Little Zebra went in with his mommy, Little Dog went with his mommy, and Bear went with his daddy. The little animals waved to each other as they walked by!

The little animals walked home with their ice cream.

Little Elephant took off his mask and tasted his ice cream.

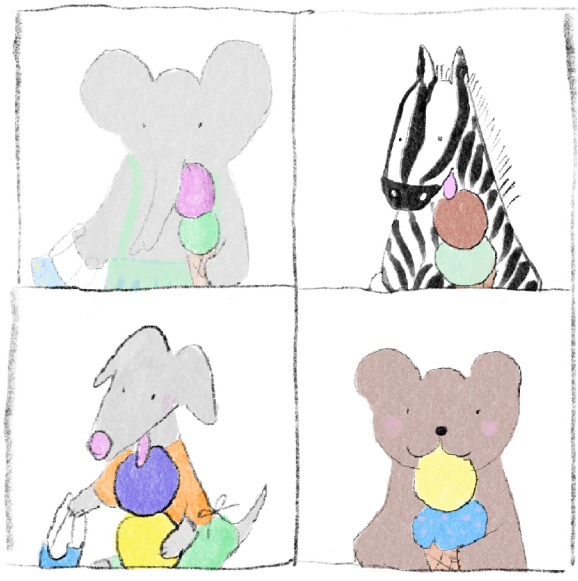

Little Zebra took off her mask and tasted her ice cream.

Little Dog took off her mask and tasted her ice cream.

Bear took off his mask and tasted his ice cream.

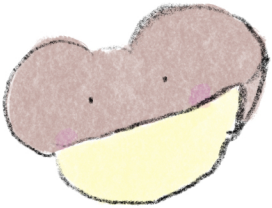

“It’s yummy!” they said.

Masks!

Written and illustrated by
Deana Sobel Lederman

All content©2020
Deana Sobel Lederman
www.deanasobel.com